

Questionnaire “central precocious puberty”/ “early-onset puberty” during the COVID-19 pandemic 2020/2021 (date: 19.05.2021)

Response via e-mail: bettina.gohlke@ukbonn.de

Name of endocrinologist
E-mail-address of the hospital/medical institution
Number of endocrinological patients per 3 months
Did you notice a raise of cases of “central precocious puberty” during the first lockdown (spring 2020)? Please select an answer	Yes	No
Did you notice a raise of cases of “central precocious puberty” during the second lockdown (winter 2020/ spring 2021)? Please select an answer	Yes	No
Did you notice a raise of cases of “early-onset puberty” during the first lockdown (spring 2020)? Please select an answer	Yes	No
Did you notice a raise of cases of “early-onset puberty” during the second lockdown (winter 2020/ spring 2021)? Please select an answer	Yes	No
Quantification (if possible)
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” in 2019
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” 01/2020 - 03/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” 04/2020 – 06/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” 07/2020 – 09/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” 10/2020 – 12/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” 01/2021 - 03/2021
Number of patients diagnosed with “central precocious puberty” 04/2021 – 06/2021
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” in 2019
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” 01/2020 - 03/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” 04/2020 – 06/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” 07/2020 – 09/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” 10/2020 – 12/2020
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” 01/2021 - 03/2021
Number of patients diagnosed with “early-onset puberty” 04/2021 - 06/2021

Comments:
